

Dinosaur Day

Our Nursery turned into a prehistoric world for Dinosaur Day, with so many children arriving in fantastic dinosaur clothing! The children became real paleontologists as they used clay to investigate skeletons and discovered hidden dinosaur bones. We also mastered some catchy new dinosaur songs together. The highlight of the day was a surprise visit from a T-Rex at snack time—luckily, he was friendly and didn't eat us!

Talent Show

We always knew our Nursery children were special, but our recent talent show proved we have some absolute superstars in our midst! We were completely blown away by the sheer confidence and courage displayed on stage. Our tiny rockstars amazed us on the drum and harmonica, while others joined together to create incredible duos and bands. And of course, there was dancing, dancing, dancing from start to finish!

Artists Exploring Artists

The children enjoyed exploring famous artists who used flowers in their work. Inspired by Frida Kahlo, they created beautiful self-portraits, while Van Gogh's work led to some wonderful painted flower vases. They also tried their hand at printing techniques inspired by William Morris. It was fantastic to see their creativity and fine motor skills blossom through these masterpieces!

Dates for the Diary

Monday 22nd June: Father's Day event

Monday 29th June: Science Week

Thursday 2nd July: Summer Fest

Coming Soon

Next week we will continue learning about the life cycle of a butterfly. Our caterpillars have been eating and growing and we should soon witness them make their cocoons.

The following week, we will begin our topic, Under the Bridge, focussing on The Three Billy Goats Gruff.
